

a hypocrite of heart and hope

New Release From Rob Lytle (Pronounced Lightel)
Heart and Hope Music - P.O. BOX 1252
Oak Bluffs, MA 02557
E-mail: heartandhopemusic@gmail.com

Track Information - (All Tracks FCC Safe)

Ballads (singer-songwriter format friendly):

- Oh, Dying (3:38) - Acoustic Guitar and Vocal. (Rumination on the death of a friend and what happens after death)
- Daddy Let Me Help You (3:28) - Acoustic Guitar and Harmony Vocals. (Dealing with the failing health and strength of a parent),
- Mother, Can You Hear Me? (3:13) - Piano, Bass, Acoustic Guitar, Light drums. (The death of a parent)
- Come South (2:47) - Piano, Steel Guitar, Bass, Light drums. (The Band/James Taylor style ballad w/ steel guitar)

Up-Tempo:

- The Way We Used To Love (2:54) (A "roll down the windows" tune about rekindling a relationship)
- Pretending That You Love Me (3:36) (A Ray Charles style pop tune)
- My Masterpiece (2:40) (Tongue in cheek humor)

Country:

- Trouble (3:08) (A Johnny Cash style mover)
- Drunk Girl (4:25) (Barroom honky-tonk with a touch of tongue in cheek pathos)

Pop-ish with a message:

- Little Loser (3:58) (Character piece about a dysfunctional relationship, dis-empowering a woman, and a man developing self awareness)

For Lyrics and Info